

First Americans Museum

APACHE TRIBE OF OKLAHOMA GALLERY GUIDE

Toy quiver and arrows (k'á k'aret, k'á), c. 1909. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution. Located in the Continuum section of WINIKO: Life of an Object.

FAM EXHIBITIONS

- OKLA HOMMA in the Tribal Nations Gallery (Lower Level)
- WINIKO: Life of an Object, Selections from the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian in the Mezzanine Gallery

TRIBAL CONSULTATIONS

The all-Native FAM curatorial team carefully developed content and selected objects in both exhibitions after conducting consultations with tribal leaders and consultants from all 39 tribal nations. FAM looks forward to furthering a reciprocal relationship with all 39 Tribal Nations.

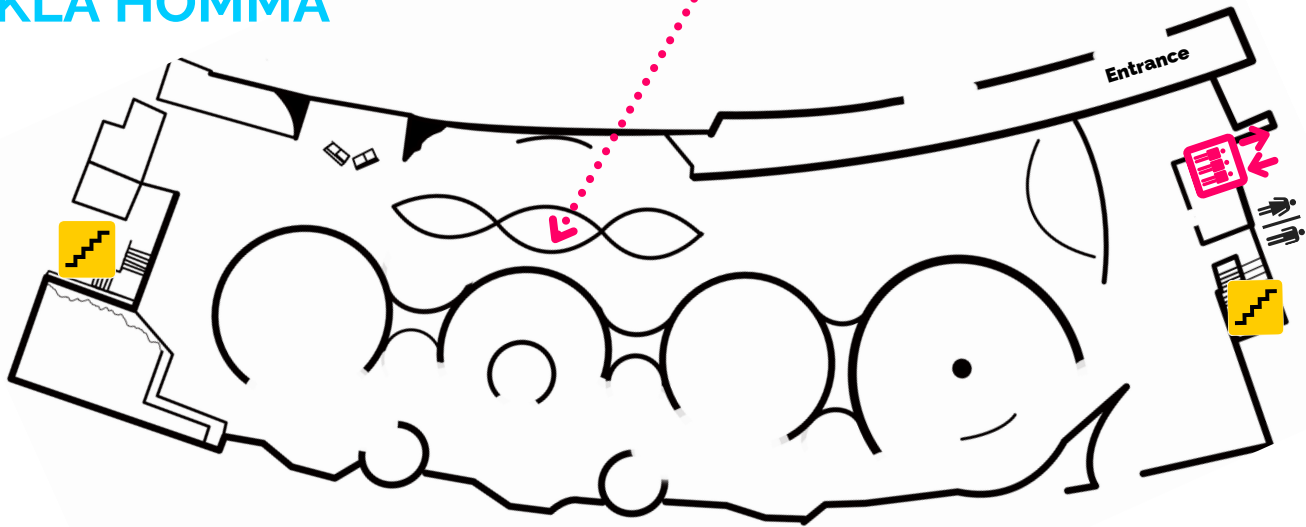

EXHIBITION SELECTIONS

FAM curatorial staff collaborated with Apache tribal leaders to select these representative objects and interpretive materials.

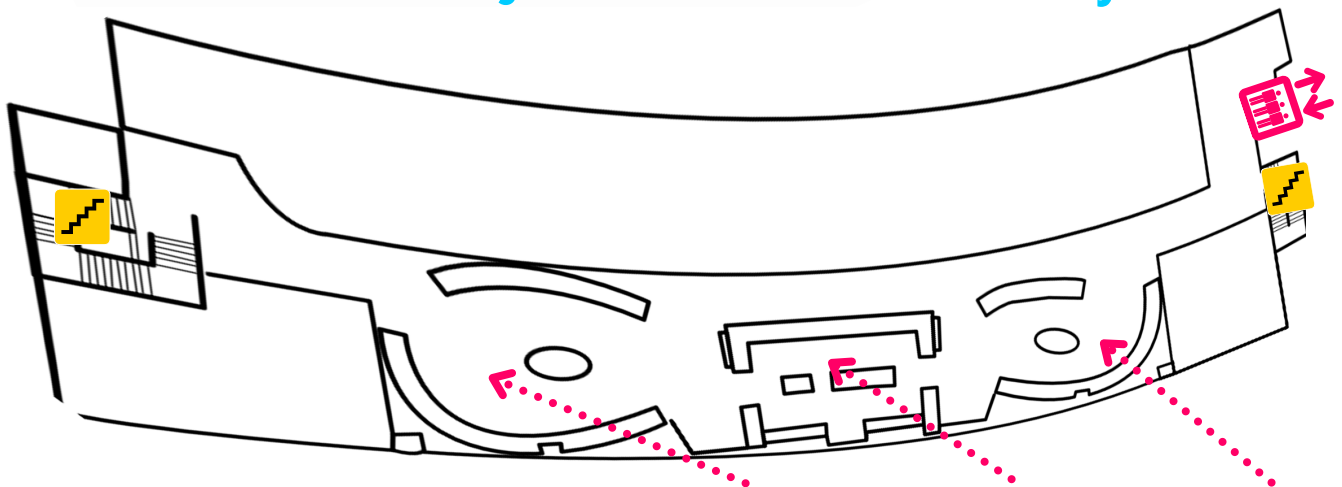

Panel: Apache Sports

OKLA HOMMA

WINIKO: Life of an Object (Mezzanine Gallery)

- William E. Irwin. Apache Sports. c. 1809. Courtesy of National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum, Dickinson Research Center, William E. Irwin Photograph Collection.
- Belt Bag (bizis), c. 1915. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.
- Kiowa Apache horse effigy pipe. c. 1880. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.
- Man's Leggings (stteeh), c. 1909. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.

Object: Belt Bag (detail)

Panel: Kiowa Apache Horse Effigy Pipe

Object: Man's Leggings