

First Americans Museum

KAW NATION GALLERY GUIDE

Woman's Blouse (ókilòxla). c. 1913.
Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.
Located in the Creation section of
WINIKO: Life of an Object.

LEARN MORE

Kanza Museum

Kaw City, Oklahoma
866-404-5297
[kawnation.com/museum/
index/html](http://kawnation.com/museum/index/html)

FAM EXHIBITIONS

- OKLA HOMMA in the Tribal Nations Gallery (Lower Level)
- WINIKO: Life of an Object, Selections from the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian in the Mezzanine Gallery

TRIBAL CONSULTATIONS

The all-Native FAM curatorial team carefully developed content and selected objects in both exhibitions after conducting consultations with tribal leaders and consultants from all 39 tribal nations. FAM looks forward to furthering a reciprocal relationship with all 39 Tribal Nations.

EXHIBITION SELECTIONS

FAM curatorial staff collaborated with Kaw tribal leaders to select these representative objects and interpretive materials.

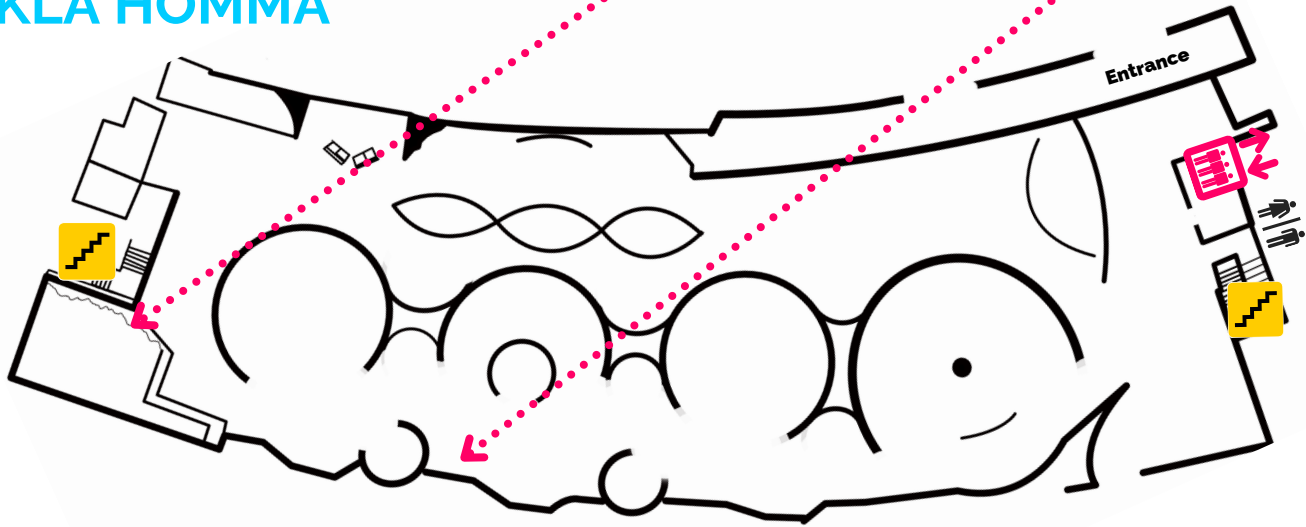

Panel: Kaw Iloshka Committee

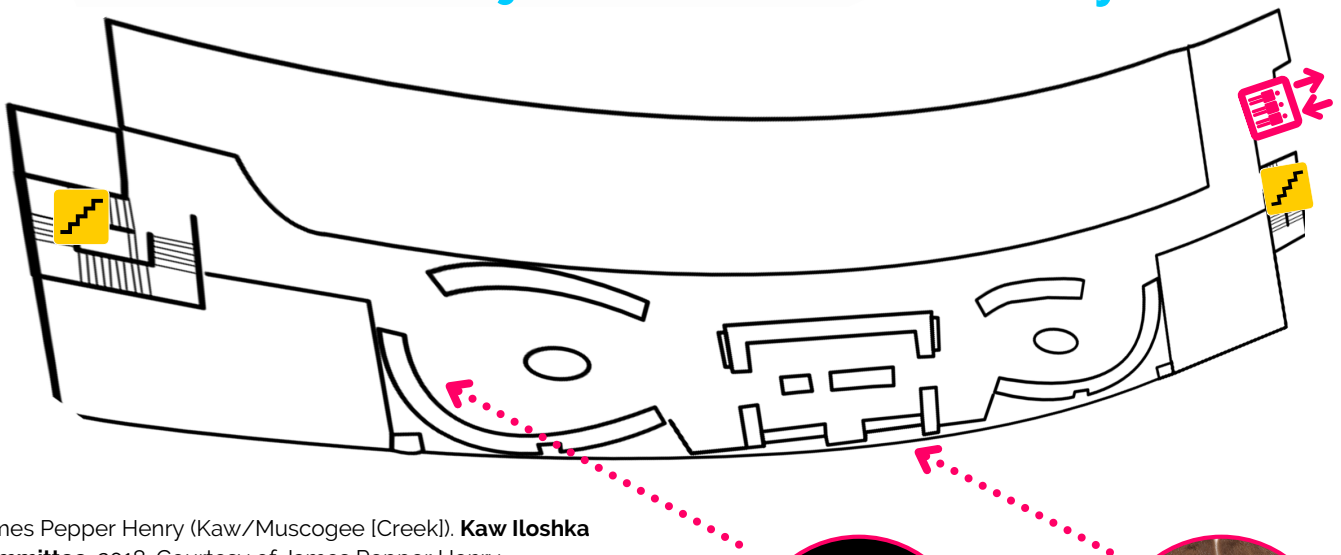

Panel: Charles Curtis

OKLA HOMMA

WINIKO: Life of an Object (Mezzanine Gallery)

Panel: Baby's Moccasins

Panel: Otter Collar (detail)

- James Pepper Henry (Kaw/Muscogee [Creek]). Kaw Iloshka Committee. 2018. Courtesy of James Pepper Henry.
- Bain News Service. Charles Curtis (Kaw/Osage/Potawatomi). date unknown. Courtesy of Library Congress.
- Baby's Moccasins (haⁿbé), c. 1910. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.
- Otter Collar (dohnáⁿge), c. 1910. Courtesy of National Museum of the American Indian, Smithsonian Institution.